

News: District court judge Amy Krause appointed to Court of Appeals

23. November 2010 By Matthew Nelson

The Lansing State Journal is reporting that Governor Granholm has appointed Amy Krause, a Lansing-area district court judge to the Court of Appeals. Judge Krause fills the seat that has been vacant since Governor Granholm elevated Justice Alton Davis to the Michigan Supreme Court. Judge Krause's appointment ends speculation that Justice Davis would be reappointed to his former seat after losing his bid to be elected to the Michigan Supreme Court.
