LEGAL

eFax launched its Internet fax service with the goal of using the convenience of email and the speed of the Internet to make it easier for people to send and receive faxes. eFax has grown to become the world's largest provider of Internet messaging services, offering fax by email and voicemail by email to more than 11 million subscribers. Our appeal and success are built around three key features: the widest selection of phone numbers; an easy way to send and receive faxes and voicemail by email; and a fast, reliable and secure communications network.

Vast inventory of numbers

Our vast inventory of numbers helps ensure that members can choose the best one for their faxing needs. eFax currently offers numbers in over 3,000 cities worldwide, in 45 countries and on 6 continents.

Easy Internet faxing and voicemail

We make it easier for members to send and receive their faxes and voicemail. When members receive faxes and voicemail, they arrive as email attachments, available anywhere they can access their email. Members send faxes by simply attaching a file or scan to an email and addressing the email to the recipient's fax number.

Fast, reliable, and secure communications network

Members enjoy faxing and voicemail on our global network of cutting-edge servers. The eFax network is protected by patented firewall, redundancy and security technologies, which ensure a 99.5% uptime, delivery times of 2-5 minutes for more faxes and unparalleled transmission security. Paid members can easily contact customer support by email or by phone, with 95% of calls resolved in less than 2 minutes.

Constantly improving and innovating, eFax will continue to bring members new fax and voice communications that will keep them connected wherever, whenever.

eFax is owned and operated by J2 Global Communications (NASDAQ: JCOM). To learn more about J2 Global, including investor relations, press releases, and job opportunities, please visit us at <http://www.j2global.com>.

An "apples to apples" comparison of the top providers of internet fax services.

FaxCompare.com was created to consolidate and organize information about the top providers of internet fax services so that you can make an "apples to apples" comparison of the different service providers and select the one that best fits your needs.

About Us

FaxCompare.com was created to consolidate and organize information about the top providers of internet fax services so that you can make an "apples to apples" comparison of the different service providers and select the one that best fits your needs. Having subscribed to an internet fax service ourselves, we found the research process extremely tedious. Most of the providers offer similar services, but the pricing options vary widely as well as the quality and flexibility of the service. In addition, many of the providers do not list all the pertinent information on their websites, especially the hidden fees. By using FaxCompare.com, you will be able to quickly understand the features most important to you, compare the top vendors, and sign up for the service.

About Us

This site was created to help make it easier to choose an online PBX service provider. We found that a lot of companies with online PBX services present the same information in very different ways or leave out information crucial to the prospective buyer. We are determined to help you by providing an unbiased resource that presents the information you need in an easy-to-understand format.
