NEWSBYTE: California Proposition 65 Settlement Establishes Cadmium Limit for Jewelry

The first Proposition 65 settlement to set cadmium limits in jewelry has recently been reached. The company that signed onto this settlement markets jewelry for children 14 years of age and younger and they have agreed to ensure that nationally their jewelry does not exceed a total cadmium limit of 300 ppm. While the limit applies to all accessible and inaccessible components of jewelry, the settlement exempts cubic zirconia, glass, rhinestone and vitrified ceramic materials of jewelry intended for children over six years of age.
