

PUBLISHED BY VIRGINIA HUNT LAW OFFICE

Nevada Workers' Compensation Law Blog

NEWS & UPDATES ON WORKERS' COMPENSATION LAWS & HELPFUL INFORMATION ON THE CLAIMS PROCESS

Nevada Workers' Compensation Law Blog

Posted at 12:11 PM on March 25, 2010 by Virginia Hunt

Cost of a Rating Exam in Nevada Is Increased

Effective February 10, 2010, the cost of a permanent partial disability evaluation on a Nevada workers' compensation claim is $650.99 for one or two body parts. An injured worker who does not agree with the percentage of impairment found by the assigned rating doctor may obtain a second rating evaluation by paying this same fee for a second rating. However, if the injured worker does not think an exam is necessary in order for a second rating doctor to conclude that the first rating doctor made an error, he may pay the assigned second doctor $324.85 for a records review and report. Click here for the form to request the name of a second rating doctor from the rotating list maintained by the Division of Industrial Relations. Read my earlier blog post on how to contest PPD awards.

Virginia Hunt Law Office
1945 E. Warm Springs Road, Las Vegas, NV 89119
Phone: (702) 699-5336
Fax: (702) 731-9097
Email: virginia@huntlawoffice.com