Illinois Nursing Homes With Second Quarter 2010 Violations

Posted by Jonathan Rosenfeld on September 29, 2010

It's that time of year again when the Illinois Department of Health releases the list of Illinois nursing homes with the dubious honor of receiving a violation for providing inferior -- or perhaps more accurately just plain bad care -- during the second quarter of 2010.

This quarter, a total of 38 Illinois Nursing Homes are included in the list with 28 receiving fines. The fines imposed against the facilities vary substantially based upon the extent of the facilities conduct. All together, the department of health imposed 443,500 in fines during the quarter with the following breakdown.

$1000 = 1
$2500 = 1
$5,000 = 1
$10,000 = 9
$15,000 = 4
$20,000 = 4
$25,000 = 3
$30,000 = 3
$40,000 = 2

Carrying the particularly dubious distinction, both Hawthorn Inn of Danville and Rainbow Beach Care Center.

Is your loved one at one of the facilities named on the quarterly list?

If so, you may want to have a frank discussion with the administration at the particular facility and share your concerns with them. As more transparency infiltrates the nursing home industry, poorly performing facilities can be called out for what they are.

Below is a listing of the 2010 Second Quarter Violations. Also, in some circumstances, the state provides more information regarding the specific incident for which the facility was cited. As usual, we will highlight some of these facilities in upcoming Nursing Homes Abuse Blog entries.
