

Update on Baltimore Cardiac Malpractice: Victims of One Doctor Could Exceed One Thousand

Posted On: May 23, 2010 by Patrick A. Malone

The scandal of Dr. Mark Midei, the cardiologist at St. Joseph's Medical Center in the Baltimore suburb of Towson, Maryland, is scaling new heights in the number of victims counted. The hospital mailed letters to 585 Midei patients informing them that an independent review shows they may have received heart stents unnecessarily for artery narrowing that Midei grossly exaggerated. But now, according to the Baltimore Sun, many more patients are coming forward whose procedures were done outside the two-year arbitrary time limit the hospital set for its own review. It appears now that the total number of cases of unnecessary heart stents could easily exceed one thousand.

Read more here.

Patrick A. Malone
Patrick Malone & Associates, P.C.
1331 H Street N.W.
Suite 902
Washington, DC 20005

pmalone@patrickmalonelaw.com
www.patrickmalonelaw.com
202-742-1500
202-742-1515 (fax)

People interested in learning more about our firm's legal services, including medical malpractice in Washington, D.C., Maryland and Virginia, may ask questions or send us information about a particular case by phone or email. There is no charge for contacting us regarding your inquiry. A malpractice attorney will respond within 24 hours.

All contents copyrighted 2010 Patrick Malone & Associates except where copyright held by others. Reproduction in any form prohibited except where expressly granted.

Patrick A. Malone
Patrick Malone & Associates, P.C.
1331 H Street N.W.
Suite 902
Washington, DC 20005

pmalone@patrickmalonelaw.com
www.patrickmalonelaw.com
202-742-1500
202-742-1515 (fax)

Copyright 2010 Patrick Malone