Los Angeles' Law Offices of Ludlow B. Creary II Have Secured a Dismissal of Felony Charges After a California Jury Hung 10 -2 in Favor of Acquittal.

A Los Angeles based home caretaker was accused of torching a California property owner's garage and threatening the property owner after being asked to vacate the premises. The caretaker had been managing the property for more than 6 months.

At trial, Los Angeles attorney Ludlow B. Creary II attacked the witnesses' version of events. The criminal threat charge was dismissed during the trial despite the property owner's claim that the defendant had made a threat to him about 6 hours prior to throwing a molotov cocktail at his garage,

The Los Angeles jury was hung 10 to 2 in favor of acquittal after a 5 day trial, and the case was dismissed 3 weeks later by the District Attorney.

The Defendant was facing 3 charges: The first was use of a destructive device and explosive to destroy property; the second was possession of flammable material and the third was criminal threats.
