The following currency notations are used in this book:

AUD Australian Dollar

NZD New Zealand Dollar

Please be aware that the information on legal, tax and other matters contained in this booklet is merely descriptive and therefore not exhaustive. As a result of changes in legislation and regulations as well as new interpretations of those currently existing, the situations as described in this publication are subject to change. Meritas cannot, and does not, guarantee the accuracy or the completeness of information given, nor the application and execution of laws as stated.

This book is intended to provide practical and useful insights into the 10 most common questions facing foreign investors and businesses:

1. What role does the government play in approving and regulating foreign direct investment?
2. Can foreign investors conduct business without a local partner? If so, what corporate structure is most commonly used?
3. How does the government regulate commercial joint ventures between foreign investors and local firms?
4. What laws influence the relationship between local agents or distributors and foreign companies?
5. What steps does the government take to control mergers and acquisitions with foreign investors of its national companies or over its natural resources and key sectors (e.g., energy and telecommunications)?
6. How do labor statutes regulate the treatment of local employees and expatriate workers?
7. How do local banks and government regulators deal with the treatment and conversion of local currency, repatriation of funds overseas, letters of credit, and other basic financial transactions?
8. What types of taxes, duties and levies should a foreign investor expect to encounter?
9. How comprehensive are the intellectual property laws? Do local courts and tribunals enforce them objectively, regardless of the nationality of the parties?
10. If a commercial dispute arises, will local courts or arbitration offer a more beneficial forum for dispute resolution to foreign investors?

Contributing to this book are the law firm members of the Meritas alliance in Australia and New Zealand. Each firm is comprised of local lawyers who possess extensive experience in advising international clients on conducting business in their respective countries. The firms were presented with these 10 questions and asked to provide specifics about their jurisdiction along with timely insights and advice. In a very concise manner, the book should provide readers with a solid overview of the similarities and differences, strengths and weaknesses of the states and territories of Australia and New Zealand.

Williams + Hughes is a Western Australian law firm specializing in commercial law and commercial litigation and dispute resolution. We have offices in Perth, the State capital city, and Geraldton, Western Australia's largest regional city.

The firm was established in 1986 as one of Perth's first boutique commercial law firms. The firm grew quickly and attracted a wide range of quality work. We now act for a wide range of clients, including small to large businesses, private companies, public listed companies, multi-national groups and high net worth individuals.

Our primary focus is on commercial work, providing services in the business and corporate law, resources, commercial litigation and dispute resolution fields. We regularly act on complex, large matters against national and international global legal firms, and these firms regularly refer work to us where they are conflicted from acting. We operate in all civil and commercial jurisdictions and are particularly active in the Federal and Supreme Courts

Apart from English, we have staff members that speak Cantonese, Mandarin, German, French, Italian and Indonesian (various levels of competency).

What makes our practice unique is the way we work to deliver a positive outcome for our clients. We are creative and precise in our thinking, pragmatic in our approach, responsive to our client's changing needs and understand the importance of achieving practical commercial solutions.

A key differentiator is that we work hard to understand our client's industries. Often we become trusted business advisers, and are involved in the early stages of developing transactions rather than being brought in later to document agreed deals.

Our philosophy, working in your favour, has helped our practice grow over the last 29 years into one of Western Australia's most respected commercial law firms.

TOP 10 QUESTIONS

1. WHAT ROLE DOES THE GOVERNMENT PLAY IN APPROVING AND REGULATING FOREIGN DIRECT INVESTMENT?

The government regulates foreign investment through the Foreign Investment Review Board (FIRB), which is a Board within the Commonwealth Department of Treasury. One of its roles is to examine proposals by foreign interests to undertake direct investment in Australia and to make recommendations to the government whether the proposals are suitable for approval under the Australian government's policy. The ultimate decision whether a proposal is approved lies with the Treasurer.

FIRB is also responsible for monitoring and ensuring compliance with foreign investment policy.

Different rules apply depending on the nature of the proposed foreign investment, for example, an investment in residential real estate or commercial real estate versus in an Australian business. Whether FIRB approval is required for a proposed foreign investment may also depend on whether the proposed investment exceeds certain set monetary thresholds.

The application process for obtaining FIRB approval is fairly rigorous but is generally determined within 30 days of lodgement of the application, although this period may be extended.

2. CAN FOREIGN INVESTORS CONDUCT BUSINESS WITHOUT A LOCAL PARTNER? IF SO, WHAT CORPORATE STRUCTURE IS MOST COMMONLY USED?

Yes, there is no general legal requirement for a foreign investor to conduct a business with a local partner.

The most common corporate structure used in conducting business in Australia is a company, although other structures such as joint ventures, partnerships and trusts may also be used.

Even with a local partner, FIRB approval may be required.

3. HOW DOES THE GOVERNMENT REGULATE COMMERCIAL JOINT VENTURES BETWEEN FOREIGN INVESTORS AND LOCAL FIRMS?

Generally, the government does not regulate commercial joint ventures between foreign investors and local firms; however, the government may regulate the foreign investor through FIRB and other laws such as the Corporations Act (which regulates companies generally) and taxation laws.

4. WHAT LAWS INFLUENCE THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN LOCAL AGENTS OR DISTRIBUTORS AND FOREIGN COMPANIES?

Broadly speaking the relationship between an Australian agent or distributor and an overseas supplier would be a contractual one governed by the same principles of contract law as the UK and other English speaking jurisdictions.

Under Australian tax law, the pricing of goods and services supplied under contract between an Australian agent or distributor and an overseas supplier is expected to be set on an “arms-length” basis. There are comprehensive and complex tax laws dealing with transfer pricing of goods and services imported to or exported from Australia for the purposes of protecting the revenue.

Where the Commissioner of Taxation forms the opinion that cross-border transactions have not been priced on an arms-length basis, the Commissioner has power to make compensating adjustments and impose penalties.

5. WHAT STEPS DOES THE GOVERNMENT TAKE TO CONTROL MERGERS AND ACQUISITIONS WITH FOREIGN INVESTORS OF ITS NATIONAL COMPANIES OR OVER ITS NATURAL RESOURCES AND KEY SECTORS (E.G., ENERGY AND TELECOMMUNICATIONS)?

FIRB controls whether a foreign investor may invest in certain sectors. There are certain sectors where foreign investment will be prohibited or restricted or otherwise restricted as being against the national interest or as being against Australia’s national security. These include residential real estate, media, telecommunications and military (albeit FIRB approval may be granted in these areas in certain circumstances).

Even if a proposed foreign investment does not fall within a sensitive sector, FIRB has an overriding policy where approval may be declined where the proposed investment is against the national interest or is against Australia's national security.

6. HOW DO LABOR STATUTES REGULATE THE TREATMENT OF LOCAL EMPLOYEES AND EXPATRIATE WORKERS?

LOCAL EMPLOYEES

Australia's system is strongly regulated by state and federal legislation. Companies that are trading corporations fall within the federal system of industrial relations presently administered pursuant to the Fair Work Act 2009.

Most blue-collar and clerical workers have their employment terms and conditions determined by reference to the National Employment Standards, and various awards and collective agreements approved by Fair Work Australia, a third party tribunal.

Senior executives and management more commonly have their terms and conditions of employment determined by reference to common law agreements negotiated directly between the employer and the employee. The terms of such agreements must still exceed the statutory minimum standards.

Workplace health and safety, discrimination, and workers' compensation for workplace injury are regulated by state or territory legislation.

EXPATRIATE WORKERS

The terms and conditions for expatriate workers will greatly depend upon the type of visa arrangements approved by the Australian immigration authorities. Business people visiting from overseas can continue to enjoy the benefits of their home-based employment arrangements while undertaking short-term business activities in Australia. However, where visas are required, the employees will most commonly be required to be engaged as if they were employees fully covered by the Australian industrial relations regime and legislation referred to above. In any event, key legislation covering such issues as workplace health and safety and worker's compensation will apply to any person working in Australia.

7. HOW DO LOCAL BANKS AND GOVERNMENT REGULATORS DEAL WITH THE TREATMENT AND CONVERSION OF LOCAL CURRENCY, REPATRIATION OF FUNDS OVERSEAS, LETTERS OF CREDIT AND OTHER BASIC FINANCIAL TRANSACTIONS?

Generally, Australia does not have any exchange controls. The Australian dollar (AUD) is a floating currency widely and transparently traded, although the Reserve Bank may, from time to time, buy or sell AUD to smooth out unusual market events.

There are no restrictions on repatriation of profits back to overseas parents by way of dividends or loan repayments other than:

- The usual requirement that the Australian entity meet the solvency test of being able to meet its debts as and when they fall due, or
- In some cases, making sure the company does not fail the thin capitalisation test to ensure that its interest expense is fully deductible for tax purposes.

Local banks are generally well capitalised and sophisticated financial institutions. As such, they are accustomed to trading in foreign exchange and dealing with letters of credit and other trade-based securities.

There are, however, some reporting requirements in relation to the movement of large sums of money and there may also be financial sanctions imposed in relation to transactions involving certain countries, entities or individuals.

8. WHAT TYPES OF TAXES, DUTIES AND LEVIES SHOULD A FOREIGN INVESTOR EXPECT TO ENCOUNTER?

For most operating companies the following taxes would be encountered by an Australian operation:

- Company tax at 30% on taxable income
- Withholding tax on any dividends to the extent that these are unfranked (i.e., franked dividends to overseas shareholders are free of withholding tax)
- Withholding tax at 10% on interest payable to an overseas party
- Withholding tax on royalties payable to an overseas party
- State duties on the acquisition of land and other assets including shares in a company

- In some cases, payroll tax on wages and salaries (a state-based impost)
- Resource Rent Tax (oil and gas only)
- Pay-as-you-Go withholding tax (on the salaries and wages of employees which is remitted directly to the Commissioner of Taxation and a credit allowed to respective employees on filing their income tax return)
- In some cases, Fringe Benefits Tax on non-cash compensation paid to employees

9. HOW COMPREHENSIVE ARE THE INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY LAWS? DO LOCAL COURTS AND TRIBUNALS ENFORCE THEM OBJECTIVELY, REGARDLESS OF THE NATIONALITY OF THE PARTIES?

Australia is a member of World Trade Organisation and TRIPS, as well as the Berne, Paris and Rome Conventions, the Patent Co-Operation Treaty, the Madrid Protocol (for trade marks) and a member of other international IP treaties administered by the World Intellectual Property Organisation. As a result, Australia has a comprehensive intellectual property regime. It includes legislative regimes (e.g., Copyright Act, Trade Marks Act, Patents Act, Designs Act, Plant Breeders Rights Act and Circuit Layouts Act) and common law regimes (e.g., the protection of confidential information and common law trade marks). Australia's intellectual property statutes create both civil and criminal liability for infringements, but criminal prosecutions are rare. Where applicable, Australian intellectual property laws are enforced objectively (principally in the federal jurisdiction) and are enforced regardless of the nationality of the parties, subject to a principal of reciprocity in respect of copyright infringement such that Australia courts will only recognise copyrights of foreign nationals to the extent that courts of that national's country recognise an Australian copyright.

10. IF A COMMERCIAL DISPUTE ARISES, WILL LOCAL COURTS OR ARBITRATION OFFER A MORE BENEFICIAL FORUM FOR DISPUTE RESOLUTION TO FOREIGN INVESTORS?

All Australian courts including federal, state and territory courts offer well-regulated dispute resolution processes. The Civil Dispute Resolution Act 2011 requires parties to litigation to certify that they have taken genuine steps to resolve a dispute prior to commencing proceedings in the Federal Court. Increasingly these courts, generally with the support of litigants and their lawyers, are requiring that pro-active case management, mediation and other alternate dispute resolution processes be implemented as early as possible to resolve disputes without the costs and delays involved in full-blown trials.

Further, in September 2010, the Federal Attorney General's Department established a Mediation Standards Board for the accreditation and regulation of Australian mediators. Accredited commercial mediators may be sourced through accrediting organisations such as LEADR and Institute of Arbitrators and Mediators Australia.

Mediation is cross-jurisdictional and therefore increasingly attractive for the resolution of international disputes.

While arbitration is also available, with well-regulated commercial arbitration procedures in most jurisdictions, the growth in alternative dispute resolution processes has meant that in general terms litigants are less attracted to arbitration than they may have been in the past. The fact that arbitration is no longer seen as a significantly less expensive alternative than traditional court-based litigation is a likely contributing factor to this.

ENTRY TO AUSTRALIA

Before reading this information, please be aware the information provided is not intended to be legal advice or to be acted upon without further consultation. Because of the complex maze of legislation, regulations and policy that comprise Australia's immigration system, we strongly recommend that prospective applicants or sponsors seek specific legal advice before making any applications or representations to the Department of Immigration and Border Protection (DIBP) or any Australian overseas mission.

The Australian government gives permission for people who are not citizens of Australia to enter and remain in Australia by the issue of a visa. There are over 100 different types of visa and they are of four broad categories: visitors, temporary residence, permanent residence and bridging visas. There are detailed rules governing entry in each visa category that are clearly laid down in the migration legislation.

BUSINESS VISIT VISA OPTIONS

- Electronic Travel Authority (ETA)
This is an electronically stored authority for short-term visits to Australia of up to three months. It is available to passport holders from only a specific number of countries and regions. Applications must be made from outside Australia and enjoy relaxed criteria specifically designed to streamline entry to Australia. Holders of ETA visas may engage in business visitor activities but must not work.
- Business Visitor (Long Validity) ETA
This visa is created for business people who need to make regular short business visits to Australia for stays of up to three months at a time. This ETA may be granted for the life of the person's passport.
- APEC Business Travel Card
The APEC Business Travel Card streamlines travel for business people from participating economies in the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) region. APEC Business Travel Card holders can stay for a period of up to three months at a time.
- eVisitor
This visa is created for business people or tourists from European countries intending to make a short business visit or holiday/recreational visit to Australia for up to three months. To be eligible for an eVisitor visa, applicants must apply from outside Australia and hold an eligible eVisitor passport.

- Temporary Work (Short Stay) Visa

This visa is created for business people intending to make a short business visit to Australia for up to three months to engage in highly specialised non-ongoing work or to participate in a non-ongoing event.

- Temporary Work (Long Stay) Visa

This visa allows the holder to travel to and remain in Australia for up to two years to work only in specific industries including sport, religious and domestic workers.

- Temporary Work (Skilled) Visa – Standard Business Sponsorship

This is the most commonly used program for employers to sponsor overseas workers to work in Australia on a temporary basis (three months to four years). Employers can be either Australian or overseas businesses operating in Australia and can nominate a number of overseas employees for different skilled occupations under the same sponsorship application. The occupation must be listed on a specific list of occupations considered “skilled” relevant to this visa and must be shown to be a genuine vacancy through Labour Market Testing. The employer must pay a minimum salary and the applicant must have English skills.

Visa holders can be employed in Australia for a period of between three months and four years. The overseas workers are not allowed to cease working for the employer who originally sponsored them without their prospective new employer obtaining a sponsorship and nomination approval from DIBP.

In most cases the overseas employees will be entitled to bring their immediate family members to Australia who will be allowed to work and study. This visa has no limit on the number of times the visa holder can travel in and out of country.

SKILLED WORKERS PERMANENT VISA OPTIONS

- Employer Nomination Scheme

Australian employers may nominate skilled foreign nationals for a permanent residency visa. The nominated occupation must be included on the Skilled Occupation List published by DIBP. The employer must commit to full-time employment for a minimum period of three years. This visa entitles its holders to live and work in Australia on a permanent basis. Applicants must demonstrate that they have the skills relevant to the occupation and must meet health, character and English ability requirements. The criteria for this visa vary depending on whether the applicant has already been working in Australia for the nominating employer for the required time.

A variation on this visa exists for employers in regional Australia (the Regional Sponsored Migration Scheme [RSMS]). Those employers (and the visa applicants) enjoy relaxed requirements but there can be serious consequences, including visa cancellation, for applicants who obtain a visa under the RSMS but take up employment in a non-regional area of Australia within the first two years of their residency.

- Options for Skilled Workers

There are a variety of visas, both permanent and temporary (provisional visas which offer a pathway to permanent residency) for those with skills recognised by the Australian government as being relevant to Australia. These skills are on the Skilled Occupations List. Applicants must meet a points test, as well as health, character and English ability requirements. The criteria vary depending on the type of visa applied for (i.e., independent, sponsored, regional, etc). Typically these visas require potential applicants to submit an Expression of Interest and wait for an invitation to apply for a visa.

- Options for People Intending to Establish, Manage or Develop a New or Existing Business, or Invest in Australia

These visas are known as “Business Skills visas” and most of them are temporary (provisional) visas that offer a pathway to permanent residency. They can be applied for with or without sponsorship by a state or territory of Australia, though those visas which are sponsored enjoy relaxed approval requirements.

- Business Innovation and Investment

This visa is created for people who have a successful business career, and have a genuine and realistic commitment to be involved as an owner in a new or existing business in Australia or to make an investment in Australia. Relaxed rules exist for those willing to make a significant investment (over AUD5 million). These applicants are subject to a points test which awards points for age, business experience, assets and innovation. The visa applicant, if successful, is granted a provisional visa of four years and is entitled to permanent residency if certain criteria are met within that time.

- Business Talent Visa

This is a permanent visa for applicants with a demonstrated “successful” business career and a level of assets and business ownership significantly higher than the required levels for the Business Innovation and Investment visa.

- Investor Retirement Visa

This is a temporary visa for people aged 55 years or older who are able to make a significant long-term financial investment in Australia. This visa is not a pathway to a permanent visa.

OTHER PERMANENT VISA OPTIONS

Permanent visa options also exist for those who have family in Australia including partners, children, parents or last remaining relatives of Australian citizens. Australia also has a visa designed to recognise overseas applicants with a distinguished talent in their field (such as world renowned scientists, dancers, athletes, etc).

REGULATION OF THE MIGRATION ADVICE PROFESSION

The migration advice profession in Australia is regulated by the Office of the Migration Agents Registration Authority (MARA). Anyone (including lawyers) who gives immigration advice must be registered with the MARA. Registered migration agents must display their Migration Agents Registration Number and adhere to a Code of Conduct in all dealings with clients, DIBP and other stakeholders.

This information is current as of April 2015.
