

Atlanta Divorce, Criminal, DUI Law Firm Launches New Site

(ATLANTA, GA) -- The Margolis Legal Group is pleased to announce that it has launched a new website to provide current and potential clients a more interactive experience with their team of skilled and professional attorneys. The firm serves Atlanta and the surrounding areas with quality of legal services for those facing various criminal charges, including DUI, as well as divorce and personal injury.

The new website can be viewed at www.margolislegalgroup.com.

Being charged with a crime can be a terrifying prospect and the possibility of being sent to jail or prison is a daunting experience. You may have no idea what to expect, and often you may feel that no one is on your side. In circumstances like these, it is crucial that you be represented by an experienced, aggressive and determined professional and that is what you will receive from the Margolis Legal Group: aggressive legal representation and outstanding client service. These are the hallmarks of their law firm and they take them very seriously because they recognize that you will be placing an extraordinary amount of trust in allowing The Margolis Legal Group to represent you during such a stressful period.

Atlanta Criminal Lawyer Andrew Margolis has worked very hard over the last ten years to gain a reputation in the legal community for outstanding representation of clients. As a result, when he walks into a courtroom, prosecutors know they are facing an attorney who is experienced, knowledgeable, and prepared to do battle to protect your Constitutional rights.

If you require the service of an Atlanta DUI attorney, a criminal defense lawyer, or a divorce lawyer contact the Margolis Legal Group. There is never a fee for the initial consultation. Additionally, the law firm charges flat fees in criminal, DUI, traffic, domestic violence cases and uncontested divorces. In most cases, The Margolis Legal Group, P.C. does not charge an hourly rate. You will know up front how much you will pay for representation. The fee you pay is all-inclusive (except for expenses) and carries you from the day you hire them through the day your case is finished in the trial court. They also offer flexible payment plans, and can accept Visa, MasterCard and Discover cards.

When your liberty is at stake, you need an aggressive, experienced and reputable criminal lawyer who will see you through to a resolution of your case, and that is what you will find with The Margolis Legal Group. They can be reached through several channels; telephone and in person but also there is an online contact form. The firm also has a social networking presence, through Twitter, Facebook, and LinkedIn, thus strengthening their communication footprint.

---