There is consensus among western economists and policymakers that exports are critical to economic growth. The Chinese government clearly agrees. A souring Chinese domestic economy and improving western economies, particularly in the United States, appear to be combining to trigger a surge in Chinese exports. More »

EPA Issues Guidance On American Iron And Steel Requirement For \$2.4 Billion In FY 2014 Clean Water And Drinking Water State Revolving Funds

J. Michael Taylor, Patrick J. Togni, Bonnie B. Byers, and Adam G. Sowatzka

On January 17, 2014, President Obama signed into law the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2014 (the "2014 Appropriations Act"), which requires the use of specific American iron and steel ("AIS") products in (1) all treatment works projects funded by a Clean Water State Revolving Fund ("CWSRF") assistance agreement, and (2) all public water system projects funded by a Drinking Water State Revolving Fund ("DWSRF") assistance agreement. ### New Study Estimates That Ending Currency Manipulation Could Create 5.8 Million Jobs In The United States

Clint Long

Currency manipulation, by which a country intentionally weakens the value of its own currency in order to boost exports, has not been kind to the U.S. economy. Currency-manipulating countries have contributed to a significant increase in the U.S. trade deficit, harmed U.S. competitiveness in domestic and international markets, and resulted in a significant decline in manufacturing jobs. Ending currency manipulation, according to a recent study published by the Economic Policy Institute entitled Stop Currency Manipulation and Create Millions of Jobs, would reverse these trends and create up to 5.8 million jobs in the United States.
