Rule 12b-25 provides an extension of the SEC's filing deadline. Filing a Form 12b-25 with the SEC no later than one business day after the filing deadline for a Form 10-Q or 10-K report will provide an issuer with an automatic extension of the filing deadline of such report (15 additional calendar days to file a late 10-K and five additional calendar days to file a late 10-Q). If a report is filed within such extension period, the report is deemed to have been timely filed.

EDGAR filings may be made between 6:00 a.m. and 10:00 p.m. (ET) on weekdays (excluding federal holidays). Filings submitted after 5:30 p.m. receive the next business day's filing date (except Section 16 filings and Rule 462(b) registration statements, which receive the actual filing date).

*Reflects deadline in light of weekends and federal holidays. When the filing date falls on a weekend or federal holiday, the deadline is extended to the next business day. See Exchange Act Rule 0-3(a).

Practice Note for Foreign Private Issuers (FPIs)

Generally, FPIs may use audited financial statements that are up to 15 months old at the time of effectiveness, except in certain instances. For example, in an IPO by an FPI that is not already listed in another jurisdiction, the audited financial statements may not be older than 12 months at the time of filing and at the time of effectiveness unless the FPI is able to represent adequately to the SEC that it is not required to "comply with this requirement in any other jurisdiction outside the United States and that complying with the requirement is impracticable or involves undue hardship." For a registration statement that becomes effective more than nine months after the end of the last audited fiscal year, unaudited interim financial statements covering at least the first six months of the fiscal year (or more current financials, if published) are required.

Special Accommodation for Gap Periods

Staleness dates do not always align with Exchange Act reporting deadlines, resulting in a gap during which a registration statement may not be filed or declared effective. However, the SEC typically allows for the filing or effectiveness of a registration statement during gap periods for issuers that have timely filed all Exchange Act reports in the last 12 months, making the staleness date the same as the Exchange Act reporting deadline. As a condition, the SEC may require confirmation that the quarterly report will be timely filed and that there have been no material trends, events or transactions that arose after the date of the latest balance sheet included in the filing that would materially affect an investor's understanding of the issuer's financial condition and results of operations. See Division of Corporation Finance Financial Reporting Manual, Section 1220.5.

¹ See Reg S-X Rule 3-12.

² Reflects deadlines in light of weekends and federal holidays. If the regulatory staleness date falls on a weekend or federal holiday, the staleness date is extended to the next business day.

³ A "Delinquent Filer" means a registrant that files annual, quarterly and other reports pursuant to the Exchange Act, but all reports due have not been filed.

A "Loss Corporation" does not expect to report positive income after taxes but before extraordinary items and the cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle for the most recently ended fiscal year, and did not do so for at least one of the two prior fiscal years.

⁴ Assumes that the filer is not a Loss Corporation or Delinquent Filer.

A "Large Accelerated Filer" is an issuer that (a) has an aggregate worldwide market value of voting and nonvoting equity held by nonaffiliates of $700 million or more (as of the last business day of the issuer's most recently completed second fiscal quarter); (b) has been subject to the reporting requirements of the Exchange Act for a period of at least 12 calendar months; (c) has filed at least one annual report pursuant to the Exchange Act; and (d) is ineligible to use the requirements for smaller reporting companies for its annual and quarterly reports.

Generally, an "Accelerated Filer" is an issuer that meets the requirements above, except the market value criterion is $75 million or more, but less than $700 million.

If an issuer no longer qualifies for its particular status (less than $560 million and more than $60 million for Large Accelerated Filers and less than $60 million for Accelerated Filers, calculated as of the last business day of the issuer's most recently completed second fiscal quarter), it will nevertheless remain in its existing status until the end of that fiscal year. See Exchange Act Rule 12b-2.
