26 INTRODUCTION

27 Plaintiffs in the Hepting action have moved the Court to schedule a Case Management 28 Conference (“CMC”) that would focus primarily on issues specific to the Hepting case. See
Hepting Plaintiffs’ Administrative Motion for Scheduling Order (Dkt. No. 39). The United

27 United States Response to *Hepting
Motion for Scheduling Order
 28 MDL No. 06-1791-VRW

1 States' position is that the first order of business in any CMC should be to address case
2 management issues that apply to this multidistrict litigation ("MDL") proceeding as a whole.
3 The Hepting plaintiffs instead seek a conference that would focus largely on issues specific to 4 their case. See Dkt. No. 39 at 2. But those issues were discussed at length with the Court at the 5 Hepting status conference on August 8, 2006, and nothing has changed in the interim to warrant
6 another conference on the same topics. In particular, the Court of Appeals has yet to rule on 7 pending petitions for an interlocutory appeal of the Court's decision in Hepting, pursuant to 28
8 U.S.C. § 1292(b). Whether that appeal is taken will have a direct bearing on further proceedings
9 in Hepting and, indeed, for this MDL proceeding.

10 Thus, as discussed further below, the United States proposes that the more efficient and 11 orderly course would be for the Court to schedule a CMC after the Court of Appeals has decided 12 whether to hear an appeal in Hepting. When that CMC occurs, we further propose that it should 13 address initial management procedures that will govern all of the cases transferred to this MDL 14 proceeding. Indeed, the Court's prior orders in this proceeding appear to contemplate an initial 15 case management conference, and the issuance of a consolidated case management order, for all 16 cases. See Orders at Dkt. Nos. 15 and 19 (related to "ALL CASES").

17 DISCUSSION

18 The point of MDL proceedings is to deal with numerous lawsuits in a manner that will 19 promote their just and efficient resolution. But it is apparent from the Hepting plaintiffs' motion 20 that they wish the Court to focus on matters specific to their own case, such as the filing of an 21 Answer to the Hepting Complaint by the Defendants in that case, the specific discovery sought 22 by the plaintiffs in that case, and the filing of a motion for a preliminary injunction in that case.
23 See Hepting Motion (Dkt. No. 39) at 2. Indeed, the Hepting plaintiffs essentially propose to 24 repeat the discussion of topics already addressed at the August 8, 2006, status conference in that 25 case.

26 Since that status conference, however, the Hepting case has become one of more than

1 thirty cases that have been transferred to this Court for consolidated and coordinated
2 proceedings. As a result, the United States submits that the focus of any CMC should concern 3 case management issues and procedures that will apply to and govern all of the cases, not just the 4 Hepting case.

5 Indeed, the United States respectfully submits that, because any ruling by the Court of 6 Appeals in the Hepting appeal would have a direct bearing on the similar claims presented in the 7 transferred cases, the Court should defer holding a CMC until after the Court of Appeals decides 8 whether it will take that appeal. At that time, the first issue that a CMC should address is 9 whether to stay all MDL proceedings while the Hepting appeal is pending.

10 The next issue to discuss in a CMC for this MDL proceeding would be how the multiple 11 cases will be coordinated. For example, the Court may wish to consider who among the many 12 counsel for plaintiffs will be designated to represent the plaintiffs' interests in a coordinated 13 fashion. Consideration should also be given at that time to the development of a unified master 14 complaint, since most of the transferred actions involve highly similar and overlapping claims
15 (and putative classes) concerning: (i) alleged surveillance by the National Security Agency
16 ("NSA") of the content of communications under the acknowledged Terrorist Surveillance 17 Program; and/or (ii) alleged NSA actions to collect telephone call record information from 18 telecommunications carriers.

19 If the Court does wish to address issues specific to the Hepting case, the parties could do
20 so at that same CMC. While the United States would address pending issues further in a case 21 management statement, we reiterate for now our position, stated at the August 8 conference, that 22 the issues identified by the Hepting plaintiffs should be deferred until a ruling on the Hepting 23 1292(b) petitions and pending any appeal, because the further proceedings proposed by the 24 Hepting plaintiffs would undoubtedly implicate the state secret privilege issues that that United 25 States has petitioned for review.

26 Finally, and as already noted, the United States submits that the Court should not

1 schedule a CMC—whatever its scope—until after the Court of Appeals decides the pending
2 1292(b) petitions in Hepting, because whether the Court of Appeals will decide the issues
3 presented by that appeal would obviously have a direct bearing on all the coordinated cases. In 4 addition, the United States notes that proceedings before the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict
5 Litigation (“JPML”) are not concluded with respect to several cases. In particular, plaintiffs in 6 three actions against the United States—Center for Constitutional Rights v. Bush, (06-cv-313)
7 (S.D.N.Y.); Al-Haramain Islamic Foundation v. Bush, (06-cv-274) (D. Ore.); and Shubert v.
8 Bush, (06-cv-2282) (E.D. N.Y.)—have moved to vacate a conditional transfer order that would 9 consolidate those cases with this MDL proceeding. Briefing on those motions should be 10 complete by late October, and we expect they will be heard by the JPML in late November 2006.
11 JPML proceedings are also pending with respect to cases brought by the United States against 12 various state government entities and telecommunications carriers that seek to enjoin those state
13 entities from requiring the disclosure to them of information related to alleged NSA foreign 14 intelligence activities. See Exh. A (conditional transfer order dated September 28, 2006, for 15 additional actions). Unless all parties consent to the transfer of these additional cases, briefing
16 on whether these cases should be transferred to this MDL proceeding should be complete by late 17 November 2006.

18 CONCLUSION

19 For the foregoing reasons, the United States opposes the scheduling of a Case
20 Management Conference that focuses on the specific issues raised by the Hepting case, but does 21 not oppose a CMC that addresses case management issues and procedures applicable to all 22 transferred cases. The United States respectfully proposes that this conference be set after a 23 ruling on the 1292(b) petitions in the Hepting action.

24 Respectfully submitted,

RECORDS LITIGATION*(SEE ATTACHED SCHEDULE)*CONDITIONAL TRANSFER ORDER (CTO-3)

On August 9, 2006, the Panel transferred 15 civil actions to the United States District Court for the Northern District of California for coordinated or consolidated pretrial proceedings pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1407. See ___ F.Supp.2d ___ (J.P.M.L. 2006). Since that time, 16 additional actions have been transferred to the Northern District of California. With the consent of that court, all such actions have been assigned to the Honorable Vaughn R. Walker.

It appears that the actions on this conditional transfer order involve questions of fact that are common to the actions previously transferred to the Northern District of California and assigned to Judge Walker.

Pursuant to Rule 7.4 of the Rules of Procedure of the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation, 199 F.R.D. 425, 435-36 (2001), these actions are transferred under 28 U.S.C. § 1407 to the Northern District of California for the reasons stated in the order of August 9, 2006, and, with the consent of that court, assigned to the Honorable Vaughn R. Walker.

This order does not become effective until it is filed in the Office of the Clerk of the United States District Court for the Northern District of California. The transmittal of this order to said Clerk shall be stayed 15 days from the entry thereof. If any party files a notice of opposition with the Clerk of the Panel within this 15-day period, the stay will be continued until further order of the Panel.
