SFC identifies continued deficiencies in sponsor work

On 26 March 2018, the Securities and Futures Commission (the "SFC") issued a Circular to licensed corporations on expected standards for sponsor work (the "Circular") and a Report on the Thematic Review of Licensed Corporations Engaged in Sponsor Business (the "Report") following a thematic inspection of sponsors, which found a number of compliance failures and deficiencies in standards of conduct, due diligence practices, and internal systems and controls. These included:

- Failure of sponsors to follow up on due diligence despite obvious red flags, such as:
  - i. large discrepancies between sales data provided by the company and financial information retrieved from local government offices; and
  - ii. relying on a statutory declaration and confirmation as sufficient to ensure accuracy of prospectus disclosure when inconsistencies, backdating and other errors obtained cast doubt on validity of certain arrangements.
- Merely following standard due diligence checklists without adapting them to the circumstances of specific listing applications, which was particularly ineffective when key aspects of listing applicants' businesses fall outside the scope of standard checklists.

The SFC has urged licensed corporations that carry out sponsor work to critically review and enhance their systems and controls, and has emphasised that it will not hesitate to take enforcement actions against sponsors and their senior executives responsible for failure to comply with the expected standards.

Based on publicly available information, the SFC or the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited has returned or rejected 44 listing applications between October 2013 and March 2018. The sponsors' work or the listing application materials in a number of these cases failed to meet the expected standards. In certain cases, the SFC identified concerns that should have been discovered and addressed by reasonable due diligence prior to submission of the listing application. In other cases, these concerns delayed the listing timetable considerably, or led to the lapse of the listing application.

Sponsors who have had a history of returned or rejected listing applications or serious deficiencies and instances of non-compliance may also expect more frequent inspection visits, supervisory actions, and closer regulatory scrutiny when submitting future listing applications.

Detailed findings and expected standards are set out in the Report and the Circular. The table below summarises the expected standards of good practice in certain key areas of sponsor work:

| KEY AREA   | OVERARCHINGPRINCIPLE  | EXAMPLES IN PRACTICE  |

| DUEDILIGENCE   |   | <ul> <li>Robust, comprehensive and customised due diligenceplans should be developed at the start of eachengagement, instead of relying on a generic checklist</li> </ul>   |
| diDeduancon  |   | <ul> <li>Give due and careful consideration to all major areasof the due diligence process at an early stage to avoidpressure to resolve issues quickly down the road at therisk of affecting the timetable</li> </ul>   |
|  |   | <ul> <li>Due diligence plans should not merely confirm thatbroad due diligence measures have been taken, butshould also demonstrate (i) factors considered inplanning the due diligence, (ii) the specific duediligence conducted, and (iii) any issues identified andsteps taken to resolve them</li> </ul> |
|  |   | <ul> <li>Adapt due diligence plans and checklists as neededduring the listing process. Plans, checklists andsubsequent updates should be approved by designatedsenior members of the transaction team and properlyrecorded</li> </ul>   |
|  |   | <ul> <li>Proper records should be kept documenting breadthand depth of due diligence and results (see ProperRecords section below)</li> </ul>   |

|          | Relying on third partiesSponsors remain responsible for matters related to tasks undertaken by a third party  | <ul> <li>Do not simply use a third party's work as evidence that they have discharged their due diligence obligations. In itself, the third party's work, such as a legal opinion, an internal control review report or an investigation report) is not sufficient evidence of a sponsor's due diligence</li> <li>Sponsors should be able to demonstrate that they have given due consideration as to whether such work could form the basis for them to discharge the due diligence obligation</li> <li>Sponsors should be able to explain:</li> <li>Why they decided to rely on a particular third party (including due consideration given to the third party's qualifications and competence)</li> <li>Whether they communicated to the third party the scope and extent of due diligence to be conducted</li> <li>Whether the work of the third party provided a sufficient basis to determine that reasonable due diligence had been conducted, and whether further due diligence was required, considering the extent of work conducted, the standards under which it was conducted, and the fairness, reasonableness, and completeness of the bases and assumptions for the reports or opinions</li> </ul> |
|          | Relying onexperts  | <ul> <li>Conduct further enquiries if there are any concernabout the information underlying the accountant'sreport or any other expert report</li> </ul>   |
|          | Critically review theexpert's opinionand conduct follow-up work to resolveany materialdiscrepancies,irregularities orinconsistencies | <ul> <li>While auditors are responsible for auditing the listingapplicant's accounts, this does not relieve sponsorsfrom their responsibility to assess the listingapplicant's financial and business performance</li> </ul>  |
|          |  | <ul> <li>Be able to demonstrate that the following has beenconsidered: (i) how an expert's report could form thebasis for discharging due diligence obligations, and(ii) whether any additional due diligence is required</li> </ul>  |

|                        | Identify andfollow up on redflagsTake reasonablesteps to identify redflags, cross-checkinformation fromdifferent sources,and follow up on,and resolve, anymaterialirregularities             | <ul> <li>Compare sales information provided by the listing applicant with sales information obtained from interviews with major customers and/or total turnover of major industry players obtained from official statistics or consultancy firms</li> <li>Exercise professional scepticism of claims that an abnormal practice or unusual business conduct is the industry norm or common practice. Focus on whether such practice or business conduct cast doubt on the genuineness of the financials of the listing applicant, its legality and commercial rationale</li> <li>Attain an understanding of the potential liability and other implications of such practice or conduct</li> </ul>  |
| INTERVIEWPRACTICES | Interviewees tohave appropriateauthority andknowledgeExercise due care inconfirming thebona fides ofinterviewees so asto be satisfied thatthey have theappropriateauthority andknowledge | <ul> <li>Conduct interviews at the interviewees' business premises as far as possible, and conduct further cross-reference checks of more than one type of proof of identity. Otherwise, ensure any irregularities are adequately explained and resolved</li> <li>Take reasonable alternative steps to verify the interviewee's bona fides</li> <li>For telephone interviews, verify the telephone numbers and identities of the interviewees. Do not rely solely on telephone numbers provided by the listing applicant to verify an interviewee's identity. Instead, possible steps include calling the general line of the interviewee's company obtained from a reliable public source to verify the interviewee's position and that the individual participated in the interview</li> <li>To ensure that the interviewee's representations reflected the position of their respective company, sponsors may request telephone interview notes to be validated by the interviewee's company with copies of the interviewee's identity documents attached</li> </ul> |

|          |   | <ul> <li>Record criteria for selecting interviewees</li> </ul>  |
|          | Documentinterviews insufficient detail  | <ul> <li>If any persons selected refused to attend the interview,document the reasons and how this was followed upon</li> </ul>   |
|          |   | <ul> <li>Record name and position of any other person presentduring the interview (especially if representativesfrom the listing applicant insist on attending theinterview)</li> </ul>  |
|          | Prepare adetailed duediligence planand documentthe workconductedMaintain sufficientrecords todemonstrate properdue diligence andadequateinvestigation intocontentious issuesand conclusions | <ul> <li>Specific issues identified (including all material risks)during due diligence and steps taken to resolve themshould be properly recorded. Stand-alone duediligence notes can be used as appropriate</li> </ul>  |
|          |   | <ul> <li>For example, criteria for selecting sites to visits for thelisting applicant's main business locations, customers,or suppliers should be recorded, as well as the namesof the sites inspected, participants in the site visits,any verification work conducted, and all instructionsor guidance provided to participating staff</li> </ul>                  |
| PROPER   |   | <ul> <li>Records should be sufficiently exact and detailed, andif requested by the SFC, to enable provision of a"proper trail of work done". A "bare bones" outlinesetting out only broad and entirely expected areas ofdue diligence is insufficient</li> </ul>  |
| RECORDS  |   | <ul> <li>Comprehensive record should be maintained ofmatters material to the listing applicant's business,including:</li> </ul>   |
|          |   | <ul> <li>the listing applicant's major customers, suppliers, bankers and creditors;</li> <li>the listing applicant's directors and senior management;</li> <li>material assets used or to be used in connection with the basis asset.</li> </ul>  |
|          |   | <ul> <li>with the business;</li> <li>contracts material to the business;</li> <li>legal proceedings and other material disputes the listing applicant or its subsidiaries are involved or may be involved in; and</li> <li>the existence, validity and business aspects of proprietary interests, intellectual property rights, licensing arrangements and other intangible rights</li> </ul> |

|  | Ensure recordscan be locatedand retrieved   | <ul> <li>As the sponsor work may experience a high turnoverof personnel, sponsors should ensure that they canlocate and retrieve records after transaction teammembers depart</li> </ul>   |

|  |   | <ul> <li>The board of directors (the "Board") and othermembers of Management (including relevantcommittees designated by the Board) should bestructured in a way which enables the board tooversee and control activities of the firm effectively</li> </ul>  |
|  |   | <ul> <li>Organisational structure should be documented,setting out the managers in charge and responsible foroverall management oversight of the firm and thosespecifically responsible for directing and overseeingthe sponsor business, as well as their reporting lines.This structure should be approved by the Board</li> </ul> |
|  |   | <ul> <li>Maintain clear policies requiring critical matters to beescalated to the Board, responsible managers incharge or designated committees for consideration</li> </ul>  |
|  |   | <ul> <li>Management of sponsors should ensure theappropriateness of the team structure for eachsponsor engagement. Sponsor principals shouldmaintain an effective reporting line andcommunication among transaction teams and othermembers of Management regarding sponsor workundertaken</li> </ul>                            |

|          |   | <ul> <li>Ensure that sufficient resources are allocated to eachengagement and provide sufficient training, guidanceand management supervision over sponsor work</li> </ul>  |
|          | <ul> <li>Escalation policies should, among other things, citeexamples of material risks and issues, and specify anappropriate threshold for internal escalation. This isparticularly helpful for junior staff members who areusually responsible for the main due diligence undersupervision of more senior staff and the sponsorPrincipal</li> </ul> |   |
|          | Other aspects   | <ul> <li>Provide scenario-based training for identifying andresolving material issues, and supplement with on-the-job training by the sponsor Principal or othersenior staff</li> </ul>  |
|          |   | <ul> <li>Maintain records of escalation of critical matters toManagement and their final resolution</li> </ul>   |
|          |   | <ul> <li>Sponsor Principals should adequately supervise theirtransaction teams at all times. They should attend keydue diligence interviews together with junior teammembers to be better informed about the listingapplicants and provide timely guidance when needed</li> </ul> |
|          | Annualassessment ofsystem and   | <ul> <li>Annual assessments are not to rely solely onattestation of the sponsor Principals</li> </ul>  |
|          |   | <ul> <li>Conduct critical review of policies and procedures toensure compliance with relevant codes, rules andregulations</li> </ul>  |
