

SFC Enforcement Actions Trends and Tracker

SFC Enforcement Trends

Hong Kong's Securities and Futures Commission (the SFC) has published its annual report for 2019 to 2020 and its quarterly report for Q2 2020. These reports highlight the SFC's regulatory work for the period dated April 2019 to March 2020 (the 2019/2020 Period) and the period dated April 2020 to June 2020 (Q2 2020), respectively. As part of this, the SFC has published information on its enforcement actions, in addition to its regular enforcement news alerts. A review of the reports and the SFC's enforcement news alerts illustrates some key trends in the SFC's enforcement agenda. These are summarised below.

Our Enforcement Actions Tracker, set out below, provides details of the SFC's enforcement actions from May 2011 where fines of more than HKD1 million have been imposed.

An increased focus on "high impact" cases and on the value of regulatory enforcement fines

The SFC continues to focus on "high impact" cases and adopts a targeted approach to enforcement. From 2015 to 2019, the total number of actions commenced by the SFC has declined, while the value of total fines has significantly increased, as illustrated in the following table¹. While the total number of actions commenced in the year 2019/2020 continued to decline, the value of total fines imposed decreased to approximately the same level as 2017/2018², but that was still high compared to the figure in 2016/2017. The value of total fines imposed in 2018/2019 was arguably exceptional because of the disciplinary actions against several sponsor firms and sponsor principals³.

Specifically within the 2019/2020 Period, the SFC disciplined 20 corporations and 24 individuals, with the combined value of fines levied being HKD479 million. Of that sum, HKD400 million was a result of the SFC's disciplinary action against a single financial institution in respect of its serious internal control deficiencies, which led to it overcharging its clients through post-trade spread increases and excesses charges over a ten year period.

- 1 Sources: Annual Reports of the SFC from 2015/2016 to 2019/2020
- 2 The biggest fine imposed by the SFC in 2017/2018 was HKD400 million against a bank for material systemic failures in the sale of structured products in the run-up to the global financial crisis in 2008.
- 3 The SFC has imposed total fines of approximately HKD72 million in 2018/2019, which are not related to sponsors activities. This is 23% lower than the total fines imposed in 2016/2017.

New fine guidelines

The evident increase in enforcement fines follows new disciplinary fining guidelines introduced in August 2018. According to the Securities and Futures Ordinance (SFO), where a regulated person is guilty of "misconduct" or is not fit and proper, the SFC may impose a fine up to the maximum of HKD10 million or three times of the profit gained or loss avoided as a result of the misconduct, whichever is greater. The Guidelines clarify that for this purpose "misconduct" may consist of a number of culpable acts or omissions. Accordingly, even if they are of the same generic nature, they may attract multiple penalties. The SFC may use the number of persons affected by the misconduct as the multiplier in assessing the appropriate level of pecuniary penalty.

Increased intervention in IPO applications

During the 2019/2020 Period, the SFC received 303 listing applications (a 23.1% decrease from 394 in 2018/2019) via the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong. The SFC directly intervened in 35 initial public offering applications (a 106% increase from 17 in 2018/2019), where it was aware of potentially serious disclosure or public interest issues, using its regulatory powers under the Securities and Futures (Stock Market Listing) Rules.

Internal control deficiencies remain one of the SFC's main areas of enforcement

Out of the 44 disciplinary actions in the 2019/2020 Period, eight relate to internal control deficiencies. Moreover, during Q2 2020, the SFC imposed HKD63.2 million (94% of the total amount of fines imposed) in fines on companies for internal control deficiencies. Such enforcement actions in Q2 2020 relate to, among other things, regulatory breaches in connection with third party fund deposits and anti-money laundering. In particular, a securities company was fined HKD25.2 million for multiple internal control failures and regulatory breaches in connection with anti-money laundering, handling of third party fund transfers and placing activities, as well as detection of wash trades and late reporting.

This serves as a timely reminder. Although there remains a greater focus on "high impact" cases, internal control deficiencies are still on the SFC's radar. Licensed corporations, registered institutions and individuals should be diligent in this respect, particularly so given the challenges to the operating environments arising from Covid-19.

Intermediaries should note that, in March 2020, the SFC published various circulars in light of the Covid-19 pandemic. Among other things, the SFC reminded licensed and registered persons of their obligations when distributing investment products, including the suitability obligation when making a solicitation or recommendation to clients, of the need to remain focused on internal controls to ensure financial and operational resilience, and of order recording obligations. Recent disruption to normal operations may be fertile ground for enforcement action moving forward.

In a circular in April 2020, the SFC chose to highlight these challenges to market makers of SFC-authorized exchange traded funds (ETFs), reminding them to ensure compliance with applicable laws, rules, regulations and conduct requirements administered or issued by the SFC when conducting their business activities. In particular, the SFC also acknowledged in a press release in April 2020 that Covid-19 has led to major operational challenges associated with special work arrangements. In light of this, the SFC is pursuing a flexible approach directed at ensuring that markets continue to function properly, while safeguarding market integrity and investor protection.

Civil action versus criminal prosecution

The SFC can pursue enforcement action by way of criminal prosecution as well as civil, disciplinary and market misconduct proceedings. However, in recent years, the SFC has used its extensive civil enforcement measures. The number of individuals and corporations subject to ongoing civil proceedings and the number of criminal charges laid is set out in the table below:

Management responsibility

For many years, regulators across the globe have been extolling the importance of proper culture and senior management accountability for financial institutions. In APAC, the SFC arguably led the charge with the introduction of its Manager In Charge regime in 2017.

The SFC's focus on senior management accountability remains clear. In June 2020, the SFC banned a former responsible officer (RO) from re-entering the industry for 12 months as a result of not taking any steps to rectify the licensed corporation's internal control deficiencies, to escalate the relevant breach to other members of the senior management, or to ensure the licensed corporation's staff adhered to its internal compliance manual. The SFC considered that the RO's conduct fell short of the standard required of an RO.

The Hong Kong Monetary Authority's Consultation Paper on the Implementation of the Mandatory Reference Checking Scheme to Address the "Rolling Bad Apples" Phenomenon also serves as a reminder of the priority regulators now place on conduct, culture and governance in Hong Kong.

Statistics in the Q2 2020 quarterly report

It is the SFC's usual practice to present its enforcement actions statistics by way of a year-on-year comparison. The statistics are consistent with the general trend that economic activities are slowing down during the Covid-19 pandemic. As illustrated below, the SFC's enforcement actions in Q2 2020 remained relatively quiet compared to Q2 2019:

- The number of section 182 directions issued decreased by 42.3%. Section 182 of the SFO empowers the SFC to investigate offences including market misconduct, fraud, misfeasance and disciplinary misconduct.
- 40% decrease in the number of investigations started by the SFC.
- 64.9% increase in the number of investigations completed by the SFC. This may have a correlation with the decrease in the number of investigations commenced in Q2 2020.
- 33.3% decrease in number of individuals and corporations charged in criminal proceedings.
- 50% decrease in the number of notices of proposed disciplinary action.

Nevertheless, when comparing the figures for Q2 2020 against the figures for Q2 2019, one should bear in mind that the Covid-19 pandemic will have had an impact on the SFC's activity in this quarter and it is too early to draw any substantive conclusions as to trends arising from this comparison.

Conclusion

Although the enforcement activities of the SFC in Q2 2020 remained comparatively quiet, the SFC continues to focus its enforcement team on cases that have the potential to harm investors and cause serious reputational damage to Hong Kong. This is a trend that will continue. That said, intermediaries must not get complacent regarding smaller breaches as the SFC continues to pursue action in relation to internal control deficiencies. In the current environment, with numerous issues arising from Covid-19, it is important that intermediaries ensure strict compliance with regulations in order to prevent misconduct or failure to observe internal controls. In addition, the SFC is likely to continue to take steps to protect investors despite the Covid-19 pandemic.

It is worth noting that following the global financial crisis in 2008, the SFC commented that in order to strengthen financial regulation, it would closely monitor systemic risks, extend regulatory oversight to unregulated institutions, markets and instructions, and share information among regulators. Intermediaries can expect the SFC to take the same steps moving forward given recent market disruption.

19-Dec-13	HSBC Securities Brokers (Asia) Limited (HSBC Securities)	Provided inaccurate information to SFC during licence application process.	HKD5 million fine; reprimand	HSBC Securities submitted a licence application to carry on business in Type 7 (providing automated trading services) regulated activity for its provision of matching and crossing services in Hong Kong (Crossing Service) in May 2010. During the licence application process, HSBC Securities represented to the SFC that existing clients would be given the option of "opting in", by signing "opt in letters", if they wished to participate in the Crossing Service (the "opt in" approach). The SFC granted HSBC Securities a Type 7 licence in March 2011. In July 2011, the media reported that HSBC proposed to launch the Crossing Service to its retail clients, and that an "opt out" approach would be adopted, whereby clients would effectively be assumed to consent to their trades being matched and crossed on the Crossing Service unless they took the initiative to notify HSBC otherwise. 18-Dec-12	Deutsche Securities Asia Limited	Internal control failure. Regulatory breaches.	HKD2.5 million fine; reprimand	SFC found that Deutsche Securities Asia Limited failed to enforce its internal control procedures to ensure that all open positions in stock options contracts it held or controlled were in compliance with the prescribed position limits. SFC found that: (i) there was failure to appoint replacement gatekeepers from March 2011 to September 2011 to replace its primary and secondary gatekeepers who were on administrative leave even though the two gatekeepers were the only people who were granted access to the real-time monitoring system of Deutsche Securities Asia Limited for the purpose of monitoring position limits; and (ii) there was a failure to enforce a "zero tolerance" policy communicated to its trading staff in March 2006 and April 2007 requiring them to execute Hong Kong futures and options contracts via itself only. SFC considers the failings of Deutsche Securities Asia Limited more serious because it had already been told by an independent reviewer in 2007 that its real-time monitoring system for position limits could not capture proprietary trades executed via external brokers. Although Deutsche Securities Asia Limited was aware of the limitation to its monitoring system and had put in place a policy and procedures to address this, it failed to implement and enforce the policy and procedures. 22-Aug-12	Merrill Lynch (Asia Pacific) Ltd (Merrill Lynch)	Internal control failures. Regulatory breaches.	HKD3.5 million; reprimand	SFC found that Merrill Lynch had failed to take adequate steps to properly handle the complaints of 11 clients in 2008 before rejecting their complaints in breach of the Code of Conduct. The clients were the subject of a fraud perpetrated by Ms Joyce Hsu Ming Mei, a former licensed representative of Merrill Lynch. They made various complaints to Merrill Lynch. Hsu was subsequently convicted of 20 counts of theft and other dishonesty offences. While Merrill Lynch made enquiries into each complaint, they failed to fully investigate all the relevant circumstances leading to some complaints being incorrectly rejected.	Click here
16-Aug-12	RBC Investment Management (Asia) Limited	Internal control failure. Mis-selling.	HKD4 million fine; reprimand	Failure to provide adequate guidance to its staff on conducting due diligence on funds before making investment recommendations or solicitations to clients. Relied on its Singapore office to conduct due diligence on investment products but saw no record of any due diligence conducted by its Singapore office. Did not provide adequate practical guidance to relationship managers in providing investment advice or recommendations. No adequate procedures in place requiring the relationship managers to document their investment advice or recommendations and the underlying rationale and to provide a copy of the same to the clients. 13-Oct-11	Solomon Independent Financial Advisors Limited (Solomon)	Facilitating unlicensed activities.	HKD1.5 million fine; reprimand; suspended the approval granted to Ms Connie Leung Wing Kam to act as a responsible officer for Solomon and suspended her licence for seven months from 13 October 2011 to 12 May 2012.	SFC conducted an investigation which found that Solomon entered into an arrangement in which Black Swan referred clients to Solomon in exchange for Black Swan receiving commissions for trades executed by Solomon on behalf of the referred clients. The Black Swan employees who made the client referrals to Solomon also performed services in regulated activities to the referred clients. Solomon knew that the arrangement with Black Swan required participants to be properly licensed by the SFC and that none of the Black Swan employees had been granted a SFC license. As Leung was primarily responsible for devising the arrangement with Black Swan, she bore direct responsibility for Solomon's conduct.	Click here
03-Oct-11	Citigroup Global Markets Asia Limited (Citi Asia)	Failure to report.	HKD6 million; reprimand; suspended the approval granted to Ms Lisa Chan Sin Man, to act as a responsible officer, her licence was also suspended for eight months from 3 October 2011 to 2 June 2012	SFC conducted investigation into suspected misconduct of a former licensed representative of Citi Asia, Mr X, who was responsible for operating what appears to have been a fraudulent scheme involving 13 Citi Asia wealth management clients who invested through Mr X on the basis their money would be pooled and used to purchase US Treasuries and other products. Mr X's scheme operated from 2004 until February 2009 when Citi Asia suspended Mr X while investigating the suspected misconduct. Shortly thereafter, Citi Asia dismissed Mr X for gross misconduct. However, Citi Asia failed to report Mr X's activities to the SFC in a timely manner as required by the Code of Conduct. By the time the report was produced, Mr X had fled Hong Kong. While this was not Citi Asia's intention, the consequence of the delay in reporting details of the fraudulent scheme to the SFC meant the SFC and other law enforcement agencies had no opportunity to interview Mr X or to secure his whereabouts pending the completion of the investigation. The SFC also found that Mr X was insufficiently supervised by Citi Asia with the result that his fraudulent scheme was undetected despite a number of "red flags" which should have caused those supervising Mr X to instigate enquiries.	Click here
21-Jun-11	Sun Hung Kai Investment Services Ltd (SHKIS)	Failure to disclose. Internal control failure. Mis-selling.	HKD4.5 million fine; reprimand	SFC found that SHKIS had failed to: (i) perform adequate due diligence on the ELNs before selling them to clients; (ii) provide adequate training and guidance for its sales staff, which would enable them to fully understand the nature of ELNs, the risks involved in ELNs, and the suitability criteria; and (iii) disclose material information, including the product terms and conditions and the risks associated with ELNs, to its clients.	Click here
11-May-11	Merrill Lynch (Asia Pacific) Ltd (Merrill Lynch)	Internal control failure.	HKD3 million; reprimand.	SFC raised concerns that Merrill Lynch had failed to properly assess the financial situation and investment objectives of over 40 of the 72 customers who invested in the index-linked notes during 2007. The SFC was also concerned that key product information was only provided to clients after they had agreed to invest in the index-linked notes and that Merrill Lynch kept inadequate documentation to explain the rationale behind the advice they had given to their customers.	Click here
