

Drug Injury Watch: YAZ / Yasmin Products Liability Litigation: February 2014 Bayer Information About The Number Of Claims, Lawsuits, And Settlements

While 2013 Annual Report Includes Gianvi And Ocella Drug Injury Cases, The Only Mention Of Beyaz And Safyral Legal Cases Is Regarding Patent Disputes

(Posted by Tom Lamb at www.DrugInjuryWatch.com on March 12, 2014)

SUMMARY: From the Bayer 2013 Annual Report which was issued recently:

- As of February 10, 2014, the number of claimants in the pending lawsuits and claims in the United States totaled about 4,600 (excluding claims already settled)....
- As of February 10, 2014, Bayer had reached agreements, without admission of liability, to settle the claims of approximately 8,250 claimants in the U.S. for a total amount of about US$1.69 billion. Bayer has only been settling claims in the U.S. for venous clot injuries (deep vein thrombosis or pulmonary embolism)....
- Such injuries are alleged by about 1,950 of the pending unsettled claimants.

We will continue to monitor the YAZ / Yasmin litigation, including the status of filed and unfiled Beyaz and Safyral cases involving blood clot side effects like deep vein thrombosis (DVT) and pulmonary embolism (PE).
