

Optima Juris Unveils Its Exclusive DepoAnywhere™ Program for Attorneys Taking International Depositions Remotely

PRESS RELEASE UPDATED: MAY 17, 2017 08:00 PDT

This web-based videoconferencing program allows attorneys to depose witnesses in other countries from the comfort of their home offices, at a fraction of the price of traditional, dedicated videoconferencing facilities

Irvine, California, May 17, 2017 (Newswire.com) - Optima Juris, the international deposition agency, has unveiled an exciting new program that allows attorneys to take depositions of witnesses in other countries without the cost, headache, or hassle of traveling. DepoAnywhere is a web-based videoconferencing solution that connects attorneys and witnesses anywhere, on any device.

With DepoAnywhere, attorneys finally have a low-cost option for deposing witnesses in other countries. All participants need is an Internet-connected device such as a smartphone, tablet, or laptop. In countries where connectivity might be an issue, DepoAnywhere has a telephone dial-in feature as a convenient backup — making it ideal for international depositions in countries where the Internet might not be 100% dependable. It is also the only solution in the industry that features an international deposition assistant from Optima Juris who will monitor your connection and provide realtime help to ensure a flawless deposition in any country around the world.

As Optima Juris Director of Scheduling Kimberlee Castro explains, “DepoAnywhere is changing the game in international depositions. It is the perfect alternative solution in cases where professional videoconferencing facilities are not available or are not possible due to budgetary constraints.”
