10. Accrual Methods	Option 1 : One PSL hour for every 30 worked. Option 2 : Front load 24 PSL hours or 3 days at the start of each year. Option 3 : PSL accrues on a regular basis, resulting in the employee having no less than 24 hours of accrued PSL by the 120 th calendar day of employment.	Option 1: One hour of PSL for every 30 hours worked in the City. Option 2: Front load any sum of PSL at the start of each employment year, calendar year, or 12-month period, so long as the employee can accrue additional PSL after working enough hours to have accrued the amount allocated upfront.	Option 1 : One hour of PSL for every 30 hours worked in the City. Option 2 : At the start of each year, front load a PSL amount equal to the applicable accrual cap (see Row 11).* Option 3 : A combination of Options 1 and 2.	Option 1 : One hour of PSL for every 30 hours worked in the City. Option 2 : Front load 48 PSL hours at the start of each year.* Employers front- loading PSL on a calendar-year basis can provide 24 PSL hours on 7/1/16 or 7/1/17, depending on which effective date applies (see Row 9), and the full 48 hours start- ing January 1 of the following year.	One hour of PSL for every 30 hours worked in the City.	Option 1 : One hour of PSL for every 30 hours worked in the City. Option 2 : Front load 40 PSL hours at the start of the year.*	Option 1: One hour of PSL for every 30 hours worked in the City. Option 2 : Front load any sum of PSL at the start of each employment year, calendar year, or 12-month period, so long as the employee can accrue additional PSL after working enough hours to have accrued the amount allocated upfront.	Option 1 : One hour of PSL for every 30 hours worked in the City. Option 2 : At the start of each year, front load a PSL amount equal to the applicable accrual cap (see Row 11).*
11. Accrual Caps	Employers may cap the amount of PSL an employee can accrue in a year to no less than 48 hours or 6 days, whichever is greater.#	Accrued, unused PSL is capped according to the number of emp- loyees the emp- loyer has in any location . • 24 or fewer employees: 48 hours • 25 or more employees: 72 hours	Employers may cap the amount of accrued, unused PSL, depending on the number of employees it has working in the City .* • 55 or fewer employees: 48 hours • 56 or more employees: 72 hours	Employers may cap accrued, unused PSL at 72 hours.	Employers may cap the amount of accrued, unused PSL, depending on the number of employees in any location .% • 9 or fewer employees: 40 hours! • 10 or more employees: 72 hours	Employers may cap an employee's total PSL accrual at no less than 80 hours.	Accrued, unused PSL is capped according to the number of emp- loyees the emp- loyer has in any location .% • 9 or fewer employees: 40 hours! • 10 or more employees: 72 hours	Employers may cap the amount of accrued, unused PSL, depending on the number of employees in the City . • 25 or fewer employees: 2017: 32 hours! 2018: 40 hours! • 26 or more employees: 2017: 40 hours! 2018: 72 hours

 * Employers can use either the employment year, calendar year, or other 12-month period for purposes of PSL accrual or frontloading of PSL.
 * Annual cap - the law clearly allows a limit on how many hours of PSL an employee may accrue in a year.
 * Rolling cap - the ordinance clearly allows only a limit on how many hours of PSL an employee may have "in the bank" at any given time. Employers cannot limit how much PSL is accrued in a year.

<sup>1</sup> Caution: This accrual cap is lower than what is required under the state law (48 hours or 6 days). See Row 12 regarding interactions of laws.

16. Cash Out of PSL		An emplo	yer is not required	to cash out PSL of	r pay for accrued o	r unused PSL at s	eparation.
17. Paid Time Off Policies	No additional benefits are required if, as of 1/1/2015, the employer already had an existing paid leave or paid time off policy meeting the following requirements: • Made available paid leave that could be used for at least as many paid sick days and under the same con- ditions requir- ed by the state PSL law; or • Had conditions more favorable to employees ( e.g. , more sick days or a more favorable accrual rate than required under the state PSL law).	No additional benefits are required if the paid time off can be used for the same purposes required by the ordinance, and the policy meets the City's use and accrual requirements.	If an employer has a paid leave policy, such as a paid time off or vacation policy, that makes available paid time off that may be used for the same purposes specified in the ordinance, and the policy is sufficient to meet the ordinance's requirements for making PSL available, then an employer is not required to provide addition- al PSL.	No additional benefits are required if the policy provides at least 48 hours of paid time off. Where the policy does not meet all requirements of the ordinance, the City may still determine that additional bene- fits are not required if the policy is overall more generous to employees.	No additional benefits are required if the paid time off can be used for the same purposes and meets the minimum accrual requirements of the ordinance.	No additional benefits are required if the paid time off can be used for the same purposes and meets the minimum accrual requirements of the ordinance. Nor are addi- tional benefits needed if the paid time off policy provides an enhanced benefit in at least one of the following categories and otherwise meets the minimum requirements for the remaining two: • Accrual rate; • Rate of pay; or • Allowable purposes for PSL use.	No additional benefits are required if the paid time off can be used for the same purposes and meets the minimum accrual requirements of the ordinance.	Other paid time off plans will comply with the ordinance if the benefits are equal to or more generous than the ordinance.

18. Rate of Pay	When used, PSL must be paid by one of following methods: Exempt employeess • For employees who are exempt from the minimum wage under the Professional, Executive, or Administrative exemptions, PSL is paid using the same method as any other form of paid leave provided by the employer. <sup>11</sup> Other employeess • Regular rate of pay for the work- week in which PSL is used; or • Divide the total wages (exclud- ing any overtime premiums) by the total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days of employment.	<ul> <li>When used, PSL must be paid by one of following methods:</li> <li>The hourly wage; or</li> <li>If an employee, in the 90 days of employment before taking PSL, had different hourly pay rates, was paid by piece rate or commission, or was a non-exempt salaried employee, the rate of pay is calculated by dividing the employee's total wages (excluding any overtime premium pay) by the employee's total hours worked in full pay periods of prior 90 days.</li> </ul>	PSL is paid at the regular hourly rate of pay for work- week in which PSL is used. If an employee has more than one pay rate, PSL is paid at the rate equal to the sche- duled pay rate(s) for the job during which PSL is taken.	<ul> <li>When used, PSL must be paid by one of following methods:</li> <li>The regular hourly rate of pay for the workweek in which PSL is used; or</li> <li>Divide total wages (excluding overtime premiums) by total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days of employment.</li> </ul>	PSL is paid at the regular hourly rate of pay for the time PSL is taken. For salaried emp- loyees, divide the annual salary by 52 weeks, then divide by 40 hours or by the actual hours worked during a regular workweek if less than 40 hours.	PSL is paid at the regular hourly rate of pay for the workweek in which PSL is used. If an employee has more than one pay rate, PSL is paid at the rate equal to the scheduled pay rate(s) for the job during which PSL is taken.	<ul> <li>When used, PSL must be paid by one of following methods:</li> <li>Non-exempt employees:</li> <li>Regular rate of pay for the workweek in which PSL is used;</li> <li>Total wages (excluding overtime premiums) divided by total hours worked in the full pay periods of the prior 90 days of employment; or</li> <li>Divide annual salary by 52 weeks, then divide by the actual hours worked during a regular workweek, not to exceed 40 hours.</li> <li>Exempt employees:</li> <li>Same as any other paid leave provided by the actual hours worked during a regular workweek, then divide by the actual hours worked during a regular workweek, then divide by the actual hours worked during a regular workweek.</li> </ul>	Not addressed.

19. Requiring Advance Notice from Employees of PSL Use	If the need for PSL is foreseeable, the employee must provide reasonable advance notice. If the need is unforeseeable, the employee must provide notice as soon as practicable.	Same as California. Employees cannot be required, as a condition of taking PSL, to search for a replacement worker.	Employers may re- quire reasonable notice of a PSL absence, but can- not require such advance notice that would deter valid use of PSL. If reasonable notice is required, employers must have a procedure for employees to communicate absences.	Employees must give advance notice if PSL is planned, such as a scheduled medi- cal appointment. If the need is unforeseeable (such as an unanticipated illness or medical emergency) the employee must give notice as soon as practicable.	Employers may require no more than two hours' notice before the start of shift, but greater flexibility is necessary for emergencies or sudden illnesses. If reasonable notice is required, the employer must have a procedure for employees to communicate absences. Employees cannot be required, as a condition of taking PSL, to search for a replacement worker.	If need for PSL is foreseeable, an employer may require reason- able advance notice not to ex- ceed seven days. If need is unfore- seeable, notice must be provided as soon as practicable. Employees cannot be required, as a condition of taking PSL, to search for a replacement worker.	For unforeseeable PSL absences, policies requiring no more than 2 hours' notice prior to the start of the shift are presump- tively reasonable, but greater flexi- bility is necessary for emergencies or sudden illnesses. Policies requiring more than 2 hours' notice are presumptively unreasonable. Employees cannot be required, as a condition of taking PSL, to search for a replacement worker.	Not addressed.
20. Requiring Documentation to Verify PSL Use	Requiring documentation is not permitted under the California Labor Commissioner's interpretation of the law.	An employer may only take reason- able measures to verify or document that PSL use is lawful and cannot require employees to incur expenses in excess of $15 in order to show their eligibility for PSL. <sup>&amp;</sup>	Employers may adopt a policy of verifying and/or documenting that employees' use of accrued PSL is lawful. If the emp- loyer adopts such a policy, it need not pay PSL for the time in ques- tion until the emp- loyee complies with the verifica- tion requirement. <sup>&amp;</sup>	Employers may re- quest reasonable documentation. What is reasonable depends on the situation, but a re- quirement should never be so diffi- cult that it deters legitimate PSL. Documentation may be required after more than three consecutive days of PSL use. <sup>&amp;</sup>	It is presumptively reasonable to re- quire document- ation for PSL use exceeding three consecutive work days, or to verify a subsequent ab- sence if abuse is reasonably sus- pected. <sup>&amp;</sup> Employ- ers cannot require employees to incur expenses in excess of $5 to obtain required documentation.	Requiring docu- mentation is per- mitted for absences exceeding three consecutive work days.*	It is presumptively reasonable to re- quire document- ation in the follow- ing circumstances: • PSL absences exceeding three consecutive work days; • Medical appoint- ments; or • Where there is a pattern or clear instance of PSL abuse.*	The ordinance is silent as to the type of documentation that an employer may request to verify PSL use. Employers should follow applicable state and federal law.

& Caution: On this issue, the city ordinance is inconsistent with the California Labor Commissioner's interpretation of the California law.

22. Effect of Rehiring	If the employee is rehired within one year from the date of sep- aration, any pre- viously accrued and unused PSL must be reinstat- ed and can be used immediate- ly upon rehire. However, if the employee is com- pensated for accrued, unused PSL upon sep- aration, the emp- loyer is not requir- ed to reinstate the paid out PSL if the employee is subsequently rehired.	If the employee is rehired within 12 months from the date of sep- aration, any pre- viously accrued and unused PSL must be reinstat- ed.	Same as California law.	Same as California law. 24. Record Retention	Employers must retain for three years records showing each employee's hours worked, and PSL accrual and use.	Employers must retain for four years records showing each covered employ- ee's hours work- ed in the City, and PSL accrual and use. If the employer fails to maintain or retain adequate records docu- menting accrued PSL, the City will presume the emp- loyee's account of PSL owed is acc- urate, absent clear and convinc- ing evidence otherwise.	Employers must retain for four years records showing each covered emp- loyee's hours worked in the City, pay rates, and PSL accrual and use. Employers must provide employ- ees copies of these records upon their reasonable request.	Employers must retain for four years records showing each covered employ- ee's hours worked in the City, and PSL accrual and use.	Employers must retain for three years records showing each covered employ- ees' names, hours worked, pay rates, and PSL accrual and usage. A copy of the records must be provided to an employee upon reasonable request.	Employers must retain for three years records showing each covered employ- ee's wages paid, hours worked in the City, and PSL accrual and use. Failure to main- tain or retain adequate records documenting accrued PSL creates a rebutt- able presumption that the employer has violated the ordinance and the City may rely on an employee's reasonable esti- mate regarding PSL earned and used. Employers must retain for three years records showing each covered employ- ee's hours worked in the City, and PSL accrual and use. If the employer fails to maintain o retain adequate records docu- menting hours worked by the employee and PSL taken by the employee, the City will presume the employer has violated the ordi- nance absent clear and convin- cing evidence otherwise.
25. Enforcement	The law does not directly permit a private right of action by an aggrieved emp- loyee. It remains unclear, however, if an aggrieved employee can file suit under the California Private Attorney General Act of 2004 (PAGA).	The City is auth- orized to investi- gate potential violations, and to impose penalties and fines. The City or an aggrieved employee can bring a civil action in court to enforce the ordinance.
